June 29 - Although the enermous political importance of the assassination of the Austrian heir and his wife cannot be thrust entirely into the background some of the editorials in the London morning papers are practically confined to expressions of horror at the crime and sympathy with the aged Emperor Francis Joseph over what is de scribed as "the most recent and most gloomy page in the tear laden, blood stained annals of the house of Haps-

The Morning Post thinks that "the idea that the assassin's bullet was to hasten some change in the constitution or policy is not to be entertained." as the centrifugal force of the monarchy's many nationalities is more than balanced by the centrinetal force of the Emperor.

The Daily Telegraph says the death of Archduke Francis Ferdinand will be a serious loss to Europe.

The Daily Chronicle, in the course of an xtraordinary editorial, says that the Archduke was murdered as "the patron and almost the personification of the anti-Serb policy of Vienna." "Theodore Roosevelt, in his fifty-sixth year, went through a terrible experience Brazil, an experience that would have led most men. He minimized his own bardships and sufferings in his descriptions of the work of his exploring expedition, but the fact remains that he came as near to death as a strong man can and yet survive. Wrangling Already Started. This predicament, it is understood here as already begun to cause trouble among the Progressive politicians and a state of wrangling that is not altogether psychological has set in among them.

Meanwhile, Col. Roosevelt, keenly alive to the fact that his impaired health is the sure road to escaping the necessity of sacrificing himself as his party's nominee in his fifty-sixth for Governor, is preparing to spend the erribie experience next month or so in a wicker chair on the veranda at Sagamore Hill. Of all the names passed back and forth already on that veranda as possible can-didates on the Progressive ticket for Governor, that of Bainbridge Colby, a New York lawyer, who has been an ardent Bull Moose speaker ever since there was such a thing as a Bull Moose party, has been prominently mentioned. Mr. Colby was a frequent called at Sagamore Hill before Col. Roosevelt's departure for Spain and since his return has been about as assiduous in his atten-tions to Oyster Bay as any one, excepting always George W. Perkins. It is known that the Colonel is an admirer of Mr. Colby, but as yet he has not even hinted whether his candidacy would be accepta-

Another name that has been bantered from chair to chair with considerable frequency is that of William H. Hotch-kiss, once State Superintendent of Insurance and now chiefly engaged in Bull Moose politics. Mr. Hotchkiss was will-Moose politics. Mr. Hotenaiss was will-ing to take the Progressive nomination two years ago, and for some time it was thought that he might get the nomination in place of Oscar Straus. He too has called at Sagamore Hill with consplcuous regularity and is quite ready, it is under-stood here, to run for Governor if the Progressives will take him.

Linked with the name of Hotchkiss has been that of William Davenport, an exsenator from Utica, who has been very active in the Progressive party, and is said to have built up a pretty strong organization in his locality. Other names have here mentioned as well. States Senator.

But while Col. Roosevelt is practically out of the running so far as the Governorship is concerned, there is no doubt in the minds of his followers that he is still the leader of the Progressives in New York State as well as in the nation and that he is going to continue to hold the job. No one of the many politicians who have called at Sagamore Hill in the last few days has dared to question this fact or Roosevelt's ticket from top to bottom

Intervention Seemed Inevitable

The conditions at Puerta Plata for the ast month have been increasingly intoler able and the belief has become well es-tablished in official and diplomatic circles here that intervention would be inevitable to protect American citizens and those of other Governments. It was believed that this is the only step which could prevent Intervention by some other Government.

The forces of the Dominican Government, which is headed by President Bordas, have been besigning Puerta Plata for about six weeks. The city is held by the rebel leader Arias, who has pre-claimed himself provisional President of the republic. Both sides in the fighting have appeared to be absolutely careless of the safety of foreigners in the beleaguered city. The British Consul has been wounded by the fire of the besiegers and other foreigners have been killed. The loss from destruction of foreign property in the city has been considerable.

President Bordas has been warned several times by the United States Minister that the bombardment of Puerta Plata must stop because of the danger involved to American and foreign citzens volved to American and foreign citizens and their property. The Presiden promised to discontinue the bombardment but falled to do so. In the last week, the Administration In the last week, the Administration decided that Bordas must be forced to carry out his promise and orders wefe sent to Capt. Russell to compel the artillery to stop firing. In accordance with instructions Capt. Russell sent a message to Bordas that if the bombardment, which had ceased for several days, was renewed American guns would silence his fire.

Capt. Russell's Report.

Capt. Russell's report to the Department to-day is as follows: This afternoon about 5:30, the Bordas artillery ashore fired shells into the city of Puerto Plata, the Machias anchored in the inner harbor and with some shots from her main battery stopped the artil-lery fire into the city, after which there was no further firing. We have the situation well in hand and no additional vessels, either United States or foreign, will be needed to prevent the bombardment of Puerto The prompt stopping of the artil-

The prompt stopping of the artiflery fire into the city this afternoon will have a very reassuring effect upon the Americans and other foreigners in the city, who have recently displayed great anxiety about their protection and safety.
